DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 24, 2004 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. In response to the amendment received April 14, 2004 and entered as per the RCE filed June 24, 2004:
- a. Claims 1-6 and 8 are pending;
 - b. The specification objection has been overcome in light of the amendment to the title;
 - c. The 112 rejection has been overcome in light of the amendment to the claims;
 - d. The prior art of record has been overcome in light of the certified translation of the foreign priority document.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-6 and 8 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: none of the prior art of record are considered to teach, suggest or render obvious the invention of claims 1-6 and 8.

EP 834952-A (EP '852) discloses an arrangement identical to the conventional structure shown in Fig. 16 of the instant application. These modules are then stacked as shown in Fig. 3 of EP '852.

However, the instant application shows in Figs. 13A, 13B, 14A and 14B that the claimed arrangement provides a reduced temperature differential between the various cells, so there is also less difference in charging efficiency. As a result, there is less difference in battery capacity and none of the cells are overdischarged during discharging, so the batteries do not deteriorate as a result of overdischarge, which means that the cycling life of the rechargeable battery will remain long and battery performance is improved (page 26 of the specification).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
